

Mary B. Ansari Distinguished Service Award

Purpose: The purpose of the Mary B. Ansari Distinguished Service Award is to recognize and honor significant contributions to the geoscience information profession.

History: The award was first given in 2005 and is named for Mary B. Ansari, a former GSIS President and strong supporter of the Society.

Presentation: The award is presented at the annual meeting of the Geoscience Information Society. A monetary gift accompanies the award.

Eligibility: Membership in the Geoscience Information Society is not a requirement.

Nomination Process: Send to the committee chair your name and contact information along with the name, title, and contact information for the person you are nominating for the award. Please provide a statement not to exceed 700 words indicating why the candidate is deserving of this award and a resume or curriculum vita of the nominee. Additional letters of support from other individuals will be welcomed.

Deadline for Nominations: May 31

Committee:

Clara McLeod (cpmcleod@wustl.edu)

Louise Deis (lfdeis@princeton.edu)

Edward Lener (lener@vt.edu)